

Our Trustees

Andy Pyne (Chair)

As Chair of the Trust, Andy Pyne draws on over a decade of strategic leadership across government, defence, and the private sector. Andy currently plays a key role in a cyber security company, overseeing business development, marketing, bids, and account management. Andy has led the expansion and growth of the company which has resulted in its acquisition by Europe's largest Google partner. Andy has also led significant government engagement in multi-million pound cross-organisational cyber security matters and contributed to both national and defence cyber strategies.

Andy has a decade of service in the Royal Army Medical Corps, with deployments to Iraq, Afghanistan, and Kenya. These experiences have informed his approach to managing complex situations, clarifying vision, and mobilising diverse teams to deliver transformational outcomes.

As Chair of the Trust, Andy is committed to delivering the Bishop's vision for Trust growth, focusing on robust governance, financial resilience, and meaningful community impact to ensure the Trust's long-term success.

Away from work, Andy is a devoted husband and father of three—each enrolled in Trust schools—and an avid fan of golf, Formula 1, and Tottenham Hotspur football club.

Adrian Davis OBE

Professor Adrian Davis has as had an international, multi-award-winning career across academia, healthcare public health, pharma, quality assurance and MedTech, including leading innovative procurement for hearing aids and diagnostic devices for the NHS.

Adrian has considerable experience leading, advising and chairing many boards, committees and ancillary bodies in the healthcare sector. He has quality assured the effectiveness of governance in these settings and has a track record in record of developing people. In addition, Adrian has extensive experience leading large innovative MedTech projects, applying for funding, controlling multi-million pound budgets and leading research and development teams.

A keynote speaker and advisor on Government policy in many international territories, including UK, EU, Asia, Russia, China, Singapore, Australia, Canada, USA, Mexico, and Brazil,

Adrian has been awarded the British Academy of Audiology Lifetime Achievement Award and an OBE for Outstanding Contribution to Hearing Health.

Flo Clucas, OBE, OSI

Flo Clucas is a Cheltenham councillor, having been elected in 2014. Flo spent 26 years as a councillor in Liverpool, where she was responsible for a range of areas including European funding and has been actively involved in the Liverpool Institute for Performing Arts since its inception and was Chair for nine years.

A teacher by profession Flo has also worked in a range of areas including as a dental nurse, civil servant, part-time journalist, and teacher in primary, secondary and higher education. She was a Visiting Fellow at the Hesselstine Institute of the University of Liverpool for a number of years. She was awarded an OBE in 2005 for services to the community and an Italian knighthood (Order of the Star of Italian Solidarity/Order of the Star of Italy) in 2009 for her work in bringing communities together.

Flo is married to John and they have two sons and four grandchildren.

Breda Bowles

Breda is committed to the governance of LWCET, having worked in three Trust schools in her early career. Breda started her teaching career at St Thomas More Catholic Primary School and subsequently then worked in both St Peters Infants (as was) and St Gregory the Great Catholic Primary School

Subsequently, Breda worked in Catholic schools in Oxfordshire in a variety of roles, including headteacher, executive headteacher and CEO of a multi academy trust. Breda has been fortunate to work with outstanding practitioners who have supported her own journey in developing her own leadership skills and deepening her understanding of what constitutes outstanding teaching and learning. Breda gained valuable experience working alongside the Prince's Trust, supporting colleagues across England in using Action Research to improve outcomes for children. Breda is passionate about supporting children, families, staff and the wider community to establish a positive learning environment in where children can flourish and be the best they can be.

Breda currently lives in Gloucester with my husband. She has three children, all of which attended Catholic schools in the Little Way Catholic Trust.

Paul Kehoe

Paul has been involved in Catholic Education for over 35 years. His teaching career began at Cardinal Pole Catholic Secondary School in Hackney where he became Head of Science and Head of Year.

He was appointed as Deputy Head at Mount Carmel Catholic School in Islington eventually becoming Headteacher. He served as Headteacher for 14 years.

After a brief retirement he became Executive Headteacher of Sion Manning Catholic School in Ladbrook Grove. He relocated to Cheltenham in 2016 and joined the Department of Schools and Colleges in 2018.

He has been involved in School Governance across three dioceses Westminster, Brentwood and Clifton at both Primary and Secondary level. He is currently a Governor/ Director of three schools in the diocese.

Phil King

Phil King was brought up and educated in Romford, East London. He joined the Home Civil Service in London on leaving school, whilst studying Economics as an 'external' student at London University,

He joined Xerox Corporation in 1973 and had several project management and finance jobs in the UK and overseas before his appointment as Financial Controller of the Xerox Mitcheldean Facility

Leaving Xerox in 1998 he worked for the Archdiocese of Cardiff as Secretary of the Diocesan Trustees and as Secretary of the Historic Churches Committee for Wales and Herefordshire.

Phil has been a governor of two schools in Hereford as well as a trustee and treasurer of the Hereford Food Bank.

Widowed, he has three adult daughters and five grandchildren, two of whom are at Catholic Schools in Manchester. He is a parishioner of St. Margaret Mary, Coleford in the Forest of Dean.

